

Gail L. Schumann received her B.S. in Botany from the University of Michigan and her M.S. and Ph.D. in Plant Pathology from Cornell University. She is Professor Emerita from the University of Massachusetts - Amherst where she taught several plant pathology courses and had research and extension responsibilities in turfgrass pathology. Dr. Schumann is the author of Plant Diseases: Their Biology and Social Impact, over 50 peer-reviewed publications on teaching and turfgrass pathology, numerous extension publications, and is co-author of IPM Handbook for Golf Courses and Turfgrass Diseases: Diagnosis and Management CD-ROM. She is a recipient of the American Phytopathological Society (APS) Excellence in Teaching Award, the Northeastern Regional USDA/NASULGC Teaching Award, the Award of Merit from the Northeastern Division of APS, and a Fellow of APS. She is currently an Adjunct Professor at Marquette University in Milwaukee, WI.